Who is your current team, if anyone?

What is your timeline on the project?

Jacque Jordan Inc. Publishing along with TVGuestpert.com is a hybrid media company. We are a company owned by television producers who are working with Authors in order to incubate talent, ideas, and product in the marketplace. Our publishing company is a means to an ends to get the Authors written word into the media marketplace in a short amount of time, without sacrificing quality of content. Our Authors are professionals in their own right. As a result of our hybrid business model, our Authors pay TVGuestpert for a traditional Public Relations contract, and Jacque Jordan Inc. Publishing matches that investment with a publishing deal. We (Author and Publisher) split net proceeds 50/50 so that both parties are invested in the success of the book long after the completion of the initial contract.
